

SAUNTERINGS

From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS.
For The Sea Coast Echo.

DAYLIGHT saving time went into effect in the eastern section of the United States last Sunday. During early hours of morn, clocks were set one hour ahead. Radio fans failing to read newspaper reports of the scheduled time change, were perplexed when strange programs greeted their dialing in place of favorites of their usual selection. Many householders were ready to send the faithful timepiece to the repair shop before the cause of the mix up was finally brought to attention. The kiddies welcome this daylight saving time change over. Amos 'n Andy is now heard at 9 p. m. instead of 10 p. m., and the little rascals are fighting off the Sandman to listen to the nightly antics of this universally popular sketch.

CHAS. G. MOREAU, publisher of the Sea Coast Echo, accompanied by Mrs. Moreau are enjoying a delightful visit in San Antonio at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Graves, and Mr. Moreau's sister, Mrs. H. Muller, who recently returned from an extended stay in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Moreau have visited San Antonio several times in the past. A host of friends and acquaintances extend a gracious welcome to the distinguished Mississippi Gulf Coast visitors.

FROM the Laredo, Texas, section along the Rio Grande, comes a press report of a fatal attack upon a child by a large mountain lion. These vicious beasts are numerous in sparsely settled borderland region, and also across the line in Mexico. However, this is the first case during recent years where a mountain lion is known to have fatally attacked a human being. The lioness was guarding her cubs at the time. The attack was likely prompted in defence of her young, ranchmen believe.

Mountain lions are a source of continuous trouble to cattle raisers along the Mexican border. Calves, colts, sheep and goats fall prey to these ravaging beasts in countless numbers each year at great loss to stockmen. Constant war is waged against the lions, but due to thick brush growth and spreading miles of unpopulated country, it is almost impossible to eradicate this pest.

IN THE mail comes evidence of a new wrinkle being used by a patent medicine company as an advertising medium. In place of the usual sample of "good-for-whatevers" pill or powder, this company has enclosed flower garden seeds in an envelope with advertising matter printed on the reverse side. We can't resist the temptation to believe some chronic "sample eater" may swallow the seeds before retiring, and feel like a new person next morning.

A BULL turned loose in a china-ware shop can do a lot of damage to cups, saucers, and plates, etc.—but when an egotistic young, exas bull views his reflection in a brightly polished automobile parked beside a roadside pasture fence, and bullishly believes he has a rival, he can give his cousin of china shop fame some keen competition.

The owner of the damaged car sadly learned that red colored objects are not the only means of exciting a bull's anger. In the future he has decided to visit ranches only when protected by a matador on each running board.

POLICE officials have allegedly located an establishment in San Antonio supplying machine guns, and other high-powered weapons to notorious outlaws and killers whose recent daring exploits have gained front page prominence. Government charges of receiving and possessing a stolen government pistol have been filed against the proprietor.

NEXT Sunday, May 10th, is Mother's Day. Devoted sons and daughters the world over will pay due respect to mankind's sincerest counselor and friend. . . one who loyally defends her loved ones in the face of life's gravest dangers, one whose gentle presence in the home colors a harsh and struggling existence in tones of soothing beauty and joyous contentment. The happy home presided over by a kindly mother is a monument upon which rests the welfare of future generations.

Don't fail to remember your mother on Mother's Day. Some little gift you know she will enjoy. A letter or telegram if you are far from home. Make known your appreciation for the many, many things she has done in your behalf. You will make Mother very happy on her honored day.

WARNINGS to caution children against riding with strangers have been issued to San Antonio mothers and teachers following mistreatment of an 8-year old school child lured into an automobile by an unidentified man, who promised to buy her a shetland pony. Several unsuccessful attempts to bribe school girls have been reported since the child's attack. Police are exerting every effort to bring the fiend to justice.

Parents everywhere should profit by warnings issued by the San Antonio police department, and newspaper editorials. Caution your child

Auto and Truck Collide On South Beach Front

T. Moran, 50-year-old farmer of the Kiln community was badly hurt Tuesday morning when a truck in which he was riding and driven by Will Davidson, also of the Kiln, collided with an auto driven by Dan Collins of Waveland, at Bookter street and the beach front.

Mr. Moran received cuts on the right arm and lacerations on the nose and was treated at the local King's Daughters Hospital.

to avoid, and promptly report actions of any person making offer of candy or rides. Explain to them carefully the danger of accompanying strangers, under any circumstances, without first securing the teacher's permission.

Better be cautious than sorry. The child who has been properly warned at home stands a better chance of eluding the wiles of these degenerate snakes preying upon innocence of childhood. We can think of no punishment severe enough for this type of moron.

CITY AUTHORITIES ARE SEEKING LOWER TELEPHONE RATES

The following resolution has been approved and forwarded by the City Authorities to the Railroad Commission petitioning and requesting that body to reduce the rates of the Bell Telephone Company now in effect in Bay St. Louis.

The resolution is self explanatory and follows:

Be it resolved by the Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis that the Railroad Commission of the State of Mississippi be and is hereby petitioned and requested to revise and reduce existing telephone rates in the City of Bay St. Louis for the following reasons, to-wit:

1. The Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company is the only public service corporation operating a telephone system in the City of Bay St. Louis and offering to furnish telephone service to the inhabitants thereof.

2. That the rates now in force in said city were approved and fixed by the railroad commission in the year 1922, at a time when the said Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company desired and was preparing to install new equipment and the cost of labor and materials was at the highest peak in several years.

The rates then fixed and approved are as follows: Business phones $4.50 per month; resident phones $2.75 per month and party lines $. . .

3. That during the past two or three years there has been a great financial depression or panic thru-out the country and the cost of labor and all materials used by said telephone company has greatly decreased, but the rates charged by said company have not been reduced accordingly.

4. That as a result of the depression and the continued high cost of telephone service many people in the City of Bay St. Louis have been compelled to discontinue their telephones, some whom perhaps would not have been forced to do so, if the rates had been cheaper.

Be it further resolved that the Clerk of the Commission Council be and he is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this order to the Railroad Commission of the State of Mississippi, and that the citizens and civic organizations in the City of Bay St. Louis, if interested be requested to take similar action.

STAGE AT STANISLAUS COLLEGE TO BE CEILED; CURTAIN IN PROSPECT

The stage in the gymnasium at St. Stanislaus college is to be ceiled within the next ten days, and a new curtain is to be hung. The front of the stage is to receive a new coat of paint. These renovations will make the stage one of the best on the Gulf Coast.

Through the good offices of the Parents' Association these changes are being made. Our old friend Tony Theyry will have charge of ceiling the stage while Harry Witter of the A. & G. Theater will do the painting for the new curtain.

From local alumni it is learned that the present curtain was bought by Brother Stanislaus back some where about 1905. To say the least it has done its work well.

Recreational Department Official Visitor Here During Past Week

Miss Lilian Tucker, from the Jackson office of the Recreational Department, visited in Hancock County and Bay St. Louis the past week. Miss Tucker is very much pleased over the work being done in this county and expects to be present at the County Recreational picnic, Saturday, May 5th, at St. Stanislaus College stadium.

Her visit at that time will be an added treat as she is very enthusiastic over sports and it is a pleasure to meet her.

The elaborate preparations made by the different committees are nearing completion. All will be in readiness for the celebration of the ordination to the priesthood of four colored seminarians on May 23, at 9 o'clock, and their First Holy Mass, May 24, at 10 o'clock, at St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, Miss. The Most Rev. Richard O. Gerow, D. D., Bishop of Natchez, Miss., will pontificate on May 23, during which he will ordain the four seminarians. On May 24, at the First Holy Mass, the Most Reverend Daniel F. Desmond, D. D., bishop of Alexandria, La., will preach the sermon. At the same time the Most Reverend Bishop Gerow will preside.

Outdoor Sanctuary
The main feature, which is under way at present, is the erecting of an outdoor sanctuary, which is estimated to be 36 by 40 feet. The sanctuary on the ordination day is to have a high altar and a throne for the Most Reverend Bishop and place for the attending clerical dignitaries. On the following day, there will be placed in the same sanctuary three other altars, at which the newly ordained will celebrate their First Holy Mass in union, and in the presence of the Most Reverend Bishop Gerow, presiding, sermon will be preached before the Mass, by the Most Reverend Bishop Desmond. On the rest of the campus there will be ample space for all who intend to witness the Masses on that day.

Bishops Notified
All the Most Reverend Bishops, throughout the country have been informed of the coming ordination of the Society's first colored priests, and were likewise asked to impart their blessing and benediction on the completion of the services. In favor of the Society of St. Augustine, America, after fourteen long, trying years of patient labor, a colored clergy for the evangelization of their race.

Schools to Hold Solemn Novena.
At the same time, invitations to attend the ordination and First Holy Mass were sent out to a large number of Bishops, superiors of Religious Orders, priests, secular and religious, and many orders of Sisters. Benefactors, friends, and the laity were also invited. Special notifications have been sent to all the schools for the colored, throughout the country, asking them to hold a solemn novena, nine days before the ordination, to implore the blessing for this great event in the history of the Catholic Church; and for the increase of vocations among the colored youth to the priesthood.

Electrical Display.
For the occasion nothing is left undone to lend splendor to the coming event. The building will have a special decorative electrical display, which will give atmosphere, beauty and picturesqueness to the evening celebration and program. In the evening there will be a Cantata, "The Kingdom of God," which will be sung by the student choir. This musical rendition will also be in the open air, on Wednesday night. It is expected that a large gathering of ecclesiastical and civil representatives will be present.

SPRING BEAUTY ALLURES

AT this time of the year when residents of Bay St. Louis are enjoying the beauty of spring blooms and the re-awakening of nature from the long sleep of winter, everyone is impressed with the possibilities of making Bay St. Louis more attractive through the exercise of a little care and attention to plants and shrubbery.

It is easy for us to realize the attractiveness of spring flowers when they burst into color and most of us make mental resolutions to improve our grounds and public places. However, as the weeks roll by, other interests crowd upon us and almost before we know it, another spring is arriving and we have made little, if any, progress on our plans of beautification.

Let's get together in Bay St. Louis this spring and do something definite toward making our streets and yards more attractive before next year. The time to act is the present and we hope that many readers of this article will accept this suggestion.

TALKING BOOKS FOR THE BLIND

BLIND people have been able to read by means of the Braille system. This is rather cumbersome as a book occupies a good deal of space. However it is estimated that at least three-fourths of the blind people in this country cannot read this system.

The latest invention for the benefit of the blind is what is called the "talking book," which is a combination phonograph and radio set, playing records twelve inches in diameter, eighteen minutes on each side, whereby the blind can hear the books read to them.

The system should not only be beneficial to the blind but there is no reason why it could not be introduced for the benefit of many others. A number of people would like to have books read to them in this way.

"OPTICAL" SEA SERPENTS.

THAT the current reports involving sea serpents and monsters have been caused by optical illusions is the opinion of Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews, famous explorer, who declares that they are due to "faulty observation of fleeting glimpses of unusual but natural scenes at sea."

The distinguished zoologist may be correct but there are millions of people in the world who would much rather believe that sea monsters exist and that the ocean depths hold forms of life of which mankind knows nothing.

THE SUN SPOTS TO BLAME

LAST week astronomers reported a giant sun spot travelling across the face of the sun. Its effect on the earth, according to the experts, will include electrical disturbances, climatic changes and other vagaries of the weather.

This gets the stage set for everybody to claim on every hot day during the coming summer that the sunspots are responsible for the excessive heat. It will also bring up the argument that our weather is gradually becoming hotter and that the summers are not like they were in the "good old days."

WHAT THE NATION NEEDS.

THE nation needs more women like Mrs. Dock McKee, who operates a filling station at Winfield, Texas. It could use some men of her courage.

The other day, armed with a pistol she rescued a kidnapped man who was a captive in the closed rear compartment of his own car. When the driver tried to swap a revolver for some gasoline and she heard a pounding inside the rumble seat compartment she opened it up, releasing the captive. The man fled, as did two others standing nearby but only one got away.

THE UNIVERSE GROWS!

ASTRONOMERS continue to make progress in estimating the size of the physical universe which, according to the latest cosmological calculations is a finite sphere, six billion light years in diameter.

In the event that someone wishes to figure out the number of miles, let us point out that a light year is the distance that light will travel in a calendar year and that light moves at the rate of 186,000 miles per second.

One sign of intelligence is understanding the use of advertising available to all citizens for practically every trade purpose.

It's about time for the family to get the old man on the hot spot and make him talk "definitely" about the summer vacation plans.

We won't guarantee that our advertising columns will sell anything but we do say they will sell anything that anybody in Hancock county wants to buy.

Nothing is so complimentary to a newspaper as a subscription paid in advance. Criticize it if you want to but when all is said and done if you spend your money on it, that's acclaim.

THE COTTON EXPERIMENT

PROBABLY the outstanding undertaking of the present era is the effort now being made to control the cotton crop by law. The Government under the Bankhead Act, practically tells the cotton grower, large and small, just how much cotton he can sell without paying a prohibitive tax practically equivalent to fifty percent of the market price of the staple.

In view of the failure of the dairy control plan, there is speculation as to the success of the cotton program, affecting as it does millions of planters whose independence and individualism has been unquestioned for years. However, the present law was enacted only after an overwhelming expression of opinion on the part of the cotton growers who had already signed agreements to rigorously reduce the crop for the current year. In the face of their voluntary participation in a reduction program, it is their idea that no selfish minority of planters should be allowed to jeopardize the success of the voluntary undertaking and, for that reason, they support reduction of the crop by law.

Moreover, the average cotton grower recalls numerous efforts on the part of agricultural leaders to put over cotton reduction programs but they also remember the uniform failure that has resulted largely because there is always a minority willing to operate on a "lone wolf" basis and take advantage of the reductions made by others. For this reason, most of those who were anxious for a reduction in the cotton crop realized that it must be accomplished by law, be compulsory upon all and be enforced by adequate machinery if there was to be any prospect of success.

Farmers in other parts of the United States will no doubt watch with much interest the experiment underway in the cotton area. If it succeeds in restoring adequate prices for the staple (which means more money for the crop as a whole), the idea will probably be followed by those who grow other crops.

ADVERTISING AND SELLING BY PERCENTAGE

THE law of percentage is what encourages all who solicit for the sale of goods. The average peddler, or subscription solicitor, has long learned that a flock of unprofitable calls will be off-set by a number of good sales. He realizes that he "gets" a very definite percentage of the prospects upon whom he calls.

The merchant who advertises should know this truth if he expects to get the most for his money. If he places his advertising before five hundred readers, other things being equal, he will get half the response that would be his if he contacted one thousand readers. There is no magic to it, the law of percentage is pure mathematics.

However, in newspaper advertising there is another factor that makes certain newspapers more valuable than others. A newspaper may, through the years, build up prestige and win the high regard of a buying class of readers. It may not have the numbers of another newspaper, when mere subscribers are counted, but it will easily outpull its competitor in securing results.

Whenever an advertiser can secure a newspaper, possessed of both the largest circulation as well as the class circulation, that's what sensible merchants would call rare good fortune.

WATCH CHILDREN ALWAYS

NOW that the nation has observed Child Health Day, which occurred on Tuesday, it might be reasonable to point out that this is a subject deserving attention every day in the year.

Children do not become healthy overnight and it is equally important to understand that they do not lose their health in twenty-four hours, as a usual thing.

Parents in Hancock county should take advantage of every possible opportunity to ascertain whether or not their children are developing normally, in order to be able to assist nature in counteracting threatened deficiencies in the growing bodies. The importance of proper food, adequate sleep and fresh air cannot be over-emphasized.

Incidentally, parents should be careful to warn their children against some of the dangers of modern life, including, of course, speeding automobiles and other likely sources of accident and death.

"DEPRESSED DOLLAR" TOURISTS

"DEPRESSED" dollar excursions from European countries may bring thousands of tourists to the United States. The favorable exchange rate allows them to make a five days' visit to New York for what would amount to only $85 under the old rate of exchange.

It might be worth the while of travel agencies in the United States to plan something like a "See America" tour, and by taking advantage of the rates that can be secured for bulk travel, make the experience so cheap that millions of Americans will be able to pay visits to other sections of the nation.

If people on the West Coast could see the East and the Easterners travel through the Western States, with others journeying to the South and Mid-western states, it would be a fine thing for the individuals, the nation and the sections visited.

HOW TO BOOST BAY ST. LOUIS

THE loyal booster of Bay St. Louis is interested in material success, but mainly because through the excess incomes that it brings, Bay St. Louis will be able to cultivate finer things.

Make no mistake, culture does not follow poverty. It arrives with material success. While people make a great mistake in attaching to financial success all virtue, they are just as far astray when they fail to give it due importance.

The best work for Bay St. Louis is success for its citizens. The man who reads this article, hoping for a larger future in Bay St. Louis and Hancock county will do most by accomplishing a great success in his own field of activity, which will enable him to do something for the community and its citizens.

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

RADICALISM.

PLEASE do not lose your temper at the sight of this word, as so many people do. This column has no intention, and certainly has no power, to rob you of all you hold dear. It is merely interested in knowing what all the fuss is about. The word has just as bad a reputation as our respectable and well-to-do conservative friends can possibly give it, so that it is apt to rouse the passions especially those of anger and fear.

Even in a mental state of calm and placid curiosity the word is hard to define. Our old reliance, the dictionary, explains: "Complete, constitutional, entire, essential, extreme, fundamental, ingrained, innate, native, natural, organic, original, perfect, positive, primitive, thorough, thorough-going, total. The widely divergent senses in which the word radical is used, by which it can be at some time interchanged with any word in the above list, are all formed upon that which is connected with the root (Latin "radix"). . . . A radical change is one that does not stop at the surface, but reaches down to the very root, and is entire, thorough, total."

Politically the Declaration of Independence made a radical change in the government of the United States, for it denied the fundamental rights of the King of Parliament of Britain over the colonists, and substituted a new theory of divine right. The Constitution was also radical, for it created a new government and established order with sufficient sanctions, in place of certain liberties. Now, of course, adherence to the Constitution is conservative, for it has become established.

Conservatism wants to stay exactly where it is, to make no changes at all. Liberalism is willing to move around a bit, or mixing our metaphors for the sake of clearness, to prune the tree of liberty here and there without touching anything except the branches. Radicalism wants to make a complete change, to sacrifice even the very roots of the tree, if necessary for its purpose. People who want to stay put can easily agree with each other. Those who want to move have to decide the further question of where they want to go—of distance and destination. Radicals naturally do not agree together at all, and spend a tremendous amount of energy in quarreling with each other.

On the continent of Europe, for example in France, it is the custom for the conservatives to sit on the right side of the legislative chamber, the liberals on their left, the radicals and socialists further to the left, with the communists at the end. Opposite the conservatives, at the right of the conservatives, are the monarchists. These old-timers are actually as radical as anybody, but the word is not applied to them.

The word radical in politics is limited to those who represent, not the land-owning people, or the property-holding middle class—the business and professional people, but the lower class, the working people—the have-nots, the under dogs, the forgotten men. It is a strange fact that their leaders often are and have been men of high birth and of considerable wealth. In order to become radical leaders, however, it is necessary for them to ally themselves definitely with their followers and against the conservatives. (One is reminded of the Mississippi senator who boasted that he ate turnip greens, and with his knife, too.) They cannot, as Dr. Wirt seems to imagine, accomplish anything by attempting to "bore from within." Huey Long seems to be a radical leader, ex Tugwell may be even more radical in his ideas, but he is not a leader, and cannot become one so long as he remains in the administration.

Sometimes men with the gift of appealing to the masses become radical leaders for their own selfish purposes. The mob is rather easily fooled. All radical leaders are accused of selfishness, although they are sometimes men of high ideals and character. Often radicals are fanatics, to such an extreme as to interfere with the adoption of their own ideas. Theodore Roosevelt called these extremists the "lunatic fringe." Effective and permanent changes are made by men who combine caution and moderation with open-mindedness.

It is a very important fact that the radical is not as much concerned about liberty, that is what we call liberty here and now, as he is about more material things. He does not care at all about "freedom of contract" and all the fetishes of our conservative liberals as he does about three squares a day for himself and family, decent clothes and shelter. He is not especially afraid of the government, for that is the only agency over which he has any control that is powerful enough to protect him against his own economic oppressions.

Radicalism thrives in times of want. The satisfied man asks only to be left alone. He is both conservative and liberal. The hungry man demands a chance. He has much to gain and nothing to lose, unless, as Karl Marx phrased it, "nothing to lose but your chains." Extreme radicalism may therefore end in either Fascism or Communism.

MORE PURCHASING POWER.

(Pascagoula Chronicle-Star)

WHEN congress overrode the President's veto of the independent offices appropriation bill, and added about $223,000,000 to the cost of the government, it greatly increased the purchasing power of the nation and placed the government in position of doing the same thing that the government is urging private business to do.

In a few words, that is raising wages. We have an idea that the President isn't so displeased in losing this fight with congress as many would think. The president had a position and a dignity to maintain, and he maintained it. Congress took the responsibility of liberalizing federal pay.

Although the pay increase was widely heralded as a veterans' measure, most of the appropriation is for federal employees, who have been getting along under a 15 per cent wage cut. About 80 millions go to veterans who suffer war disabilities. Government employees now total 611,750 with 79,000 in Washington. This is the first time the government personnel has gone beyond the 600,000 mark since 1920.

The increased federal pay will do much to speed recovery, for it is widely disseminated. In Pascagoula several hundred persons are affected, most of them being Coast Guardsmen.

The county seems to be satisfied with the restoration of these pay cuts. It sets a good example to industry. In fact, it will help industry by increasing the county's purchasing power.

RECOVERY'S MARCH

(McComb Enterprise)

VALIANTLY are the leaders of the nation seeking to restore the economic balance of the nation. Violently is this recovery being hindered by strikes throughout the nation.

It seems that labor could not find a more inopportune time to strike. We say this despite our friendship for organized labor.

The McComb Cotton Mill is now out of orders simply because automobile workers in Detroit are on a strike. The product of the McComb mill goes into the fabric used in manufacturing automobiles.

All over the nation industries are closed because of the automobile factory's shut down.

The big idea in recovery is to open industries; not close them. Never before has the government shown such a helpful attitude toward labor. This government is boosting wages; shortening working hours. This same government is urging labor not to strike.

We sympathize with labor in its effort to improve itself. We regret to see labor wrongly led. In some instances strikes are due to unintelligent leadership. Others perhaps not.

This is a time for labor and capital to be considerate, patient, conciliatory.

The onward march to recovery should be uninterrupted.

UNITED DRYS OF MISSISSIPPI

(Gulfport Guide)

UNDER the foregoing name a militant minority marshals its forces to encompass the defeat of the Roberts-May liquor measure in Mississippi. The first strategy of this die-hard group is to bombard the press with quotations it has "cork-screwed" from "statesmen and educators." (The appellations are its own—the drys distinguish between "statesmen" and "politicians" by the "wet and dry" test.)

The "statesmen" they quote are Governor Conner, Lieutenant-Governor Murphree, Tom Bailey and Lester Franklin. The educators quoted are presidents of state owned or denominational schools.

What a pity that the cause of "temperance and reform" has had no "statesmen" to sing its praise. With the press that has been overwhelmed

WITH THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLKS

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

CONSIDERABLE interest in the production of "The Merry Widow," in which Jeanette MacDonald and Maurice Chevalier are featured. Spectacular sets are being used, with special attention given Miss MacDonald's hoochie—a massive room, done entirely in white, but with twenty-two various tones used to give relief to the eyes. The picture is expected to approximate the popularity of "The Love Parade," produced by MGM as the first and best remembered films by the two players.

Fox is puzzled about exactly what to do with Lillian Harvey. A tremendous success in Europe, she was brought to this country. Her first pictures have not proven to be great box-office attractions, although her fan mail is second in volume to any on the Fox lot. However, officials believe, given the right stories and she will prove one of their most successful players. Her next picture is to be "Love Time," directed by Paul Martin.

Mickey Mouse is enjoying a real Hollywood premiere this week. The occasion is the showing of "Gulliver Mickey," augmented by a silly symphony, "The Wise Little Hen." The proceeds of the premiere, tickets to which cost $5.00 each, will go to the state commission for protection of children and animals.

Greta Garbo's next vehicle is scheduled to be "The Painted Veil," by Somerset Maugham. The background is in sultry Malay.

Universal plans the production of Charles Dickens' "Great Expectations," as one of its constant films on its 1934-35 program.

The latest of Walt Disney's "Three Little Pigs" cycles is "The Big Bad Wolf," showing a baryand encounter between the three little pigs and Little Red Riding Hood and her grandmother.

King Vidor has engaged Karen Morley and Tom Keene for leading roles in his new film, "Our Daily Bread."

After quite a lengthy discussion of possible prospects, Kay Francis was suggested as the lead opposite Leslie Howard in Warner Brothers' production of "British Agent." Mr. Howard was delighted and it is thought that the new combination—Kay Francis-Leslie Howard—will be quite as popular as the Howard-Ann Harding team proved to be.

Bob MacGowan, who introduced such juvenile stars as Jackie Cooper, Farina, Mary Kornman, Mickey McGuire and other members of "Our Gang" has signed a contract with Paramount to make a series of 13 one-reel shorts with children of two, three and four years. The shorts will be in technicolor and are sure to be good, as Mr. MacGowan knows how to handle the babies.

ingly silent or indifferent The Guide has been as a wee small voice crying in the wilderness.

There are no United Wets in Mississippi. Time will come when some man will step forth from the crowd and vitalize the issue of "repeal and reform" and be overwhelmingly elected in Mississippi. We cannot believe that this great hypocrisy will be perpetuated and that a small but united die-hard group will perpetrate its intolerance upon the whole people.

Back to the bill. No one can have much enthusiasm for it, for the legislature dodged the issue in its passage. The people may vote for it and they may not—if statesmen and educators, elders and stewards, editors and lawyers, along with others, vote their predilections, it will become the law.

Whether the people vote for it or not, we shall still have liquor. We shall no more keep it out of the state than we shall dam up the waters of the Mississippi.

There is, therefore, only one issue. Do politicians and educators want the revenue forthcoming from this vile traffic or do they prefer that liquids flow in freely, untaxed, unregulated and uncontrolled?

Let's Make Our Town Cleaner and Safer!

Right now Spring is in the air, and nature, in her annual awakening, is doing her utmost to beautify this old world of ours. A little help on our part would not be amiss.

In the winter many things are neglected. Vacant lots, yards and even streets become unsightly. Now is the time for a thorough spring cleaning, in the interest of better health, safety and improved appearance.

Such a clean-up campaign is a splendid activity for civic clubs, chambers of commerce or Boy Scouts to sponsor. One of them will have to assume the leadership in order to start the ball rolling, then obtain the cooperation of others. Streets and parking should be cleaned. Vacant lots, cleared of rubbish, can be made into beautiful playgrounds, parks or gardens. Not the least important phase of this work is the jobs it provides.

When a movement to clean-up, paint-up and beautify sweeps thru a community, it leaves in its wake a healthier, safer and more sanitary town than it found. From the angle of the safety alone, it is worthwhile. In this connection it is interesting to note that the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported that during the year 1932, rubbish and litter caused a fire loss of about $1,200,000 throughout the United States. Let's beautify our community and save that money this year.

FACE NEW PROBLEMS AS SCHOOL CLOSES

Pupils Who Go Out Into Life Must Meet Responsibilities

With the coming of May, schools in various parts of the country have begun to close and thousands upon thousands of graduates are being turned out into a world that is barely ready to receive them.

Just what does the average graduate of High School or college plan to do now? We feel that the institution from which they came has not accomplished its real duty by these students if it has graduated them without preparing them in the best possible way for some vocation.

We hope that every High School student will resolve to go on to an institution of higher learning. While a high school education is usually good, in these days of specialized workers, a boy or girl with a college education is more likely to succeed than one who has a limited education.

Happy is that youth, who, early in life, is able to decide just what he wants to do when he becomes grown. They are at an advantage over others in that they may spend their time in high school and college preparing themselves to be the very best in their chosen line.

The adults of Bay St. Louis can aid the youth growing up around about us by talking with them and helping them to decide just what they want to be. We might say here that the influence of the life being lived around boys and girls has a great deal to do with their decisions. An outstanding doctor, for example, who is a success in his profession, often unconsciously leads a boy in his community to want to be like him. Likewise, a brilliant lawyer, an able executive, an energetic salesman can influence their lives after what they see in these men.

This is a fact that should cause the adults of Bay St. Louis grave concern and should stimulate them to greater endeavor and nobler living before the boys and girls of this community. Surely, no normal, serious-minded man or woman in this community would want his or her influence to blight the prospects of any child.

Parents should seriously study their children, trying, if possible, to determine the inherent traits in them with a view to advising their children as to their vocations in life. However, this should not be carried too far. Too often, a lawyer father can't see his son in any other vocation except that of the law, when the

KAY FRANCIS HEADS TALENTED ALL STAR CAST IN "MANDALAY"

Ricardo Cortez and Warner Oland Two Other Principals.

"Mandalay," the first National picture which comes to the A. & G. Theater on Sunday and Monday, is enacted by an unusually large and talented cast with four players in the stellar roles.

Kay Francis, recently seen in "The House on 56th Street," "I loved a Woman" and "Mary Stevens," M. D., heads the featured players, while Lyle Talbot plays opposite Miss Francis as the man in whom she finally finds romance. He will be remembered for such pictures as "College Coach" and "Havana Widows," as well as having played with Miss Francis in "Mary Stevens, M. D."

Ricardo Cortez and Warner Oland are the two other principals, both in the roles of villains. Cortez, as well as Talbot, has appeared with Miss Francis before having had the villain role in "The House on 56th Street." He also appeared recently in "The Big Shakedown," "Big Executive," and "The Torch Singer."

Warner Oland's most recent pictures include "As Husbands Go," "The Death Watch" and "Charlie Chan's Greatest Case." In the supporting cast will be found such talented players as Ruth Donnelly, Reginald Owen, Hobart Cavanaugh, David Torrence, Rafaela Ottiano, Halliwell Hobbes, Etienne Girardot, Lucien Littlefield, Bodil Rosing, Herman Bing, Harry C. Bradley, James B. Leong, Shirley Temple, Lillian Harmer and Torben Meyer.

The picture is a tale of romance and thrilling adventure set in the colorful background of Burma, and concerns a beautiful Russian exile who is sold into virtual slavery to a night club resort keeper by the man she loves. Her flight and pursuit forms an exciting portion of the drama that is filled with thrills.

Michael Curtiz directed the picture from the screen play by Austin Parker and Charles Kenyon, based on the story by Paul Hervey Fox.

boy, by preference and ability, would prefer something entirely different. One parent, when asked what he wanted his son to be, replied that he didn't know but that after he found out what the boy wanted to be, he would try to see to it that he trained himself to be the best possible person in his chosen field. That, to us, is a sensible view for any parent to take.

The students in the schools of Hancock county should make every effort possible to decide as early as possible what position in life they would rather fill because, as a well known educator said, "Lucky is the young man (or woman) who discovers this fact early."

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

"BUY a vote! Buy a vote." Such is the cry of many prospective S. J. A. Maids. Then too there is a great deal of chatter about the style of dress and delicate shades. Most of them are tripping on the light fantastic toe in expectation of the delightful evening that awaits them on Sunday, May the 13th.

But who would think that although votes are fast coming in, the dress problem has been practically solved—who would think that Dukes would be a minus quantity when the S. J. A. Maids are in question? Is it possible?

SODALITY NEWS.

At the weekly Sodality meeting the Sodality discussed plans for the month of May.

May devotions were selected by the majority as a fitting means for honoring Mary. According to the Sodality, this was not sufficient homage to pay their patron. So it was further decided that each class in the High School would attend Mass on a specified day throughout the month of May. A percentage of the Mass attendance will be taken daily.

In addition, several girls each day are privileged to keep their heavenly Mother fittingly decorated.

No sodality need be reminded that Mary claims the month of May for her month and consequently every Child of Mary will see in May an opportunity for serving and honoring the Queen of Heaven.

Although the girls have waded through five sixths of their school task yet the last round is the most arduous.

The dreaded ordeal of Washington Exams is still in prospect. It is at this time that the slaggards are sorry for their past neglect whereas the industrious are reaping the reward of their hard work. At any rate all are studying and cramming and "Exams" is the most popular subject of the day.

Improvement by City Well Worthy Of Note

The Mayor and City Commissioners are to be congratulated upon the fine piece of work recently completed on the drainage system at St. George and Second streets.

This particular section of the city has long felt the need of proper drainage at this spot, which was always flooded during heavy rains.

The drain has been rearranged and repaired and is now capable of taking care of any over abundance of water which might accumulate.

This and other public repairs add greatly to the betterment of the city and is another attestation of the needed improvements made by the city fathers.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

STRAWBERRY season will soon be at its height and between frozen dishes, shortcakes, whips and other combinations we need never be at a loss for a different way to serve them.

Desirable strawberries should be clean, firm but not hard, free from decay and a good color. Try one of these recipes the next time you have strawberries.

Minted Strawberries

Use large perfect whole strawberries. Remove hulls and squeeze over them orange juice, to which a little chopped mint has been added. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and chill thoroughly. Serve in cocktail glasses.

Strawberry Salad

Select large perfect berries, half them and sprinkle with sugar. Chill and arrange in lettuce nests, top with fruit dressing.

Fruit Dressing

Beat the yolks of 2 eggs with 1-3 cup of pineapple juice and 1-2 tablespoon of lemon juice. Cook over hot water till thick, adding 1-2 cup of sugar gradually. Stir well. Chill, then fold into this 1 cup of whipped cream. Top the salad portion with shredded blanched almonds.

Strawberries in Lemon Gelatin.

Prepare the gelatin by adding boiling water according to directions. Set aside to cool. Cut 2 cups of strawberries in halves and sugar to taste. When the gelatin has begun to congeal fold the berries in and turn into a mold. Chill, unmold and serve with plain cream.

Strawberry Roll

3 tablespoons shortening
1-3 cups flour
1-3 cup milk
1 egg, well beaten
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter
1-2 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 pint strawberries
2-3 cup sugar

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder and 2 tablespoons of the sugar. Cut in the shortening as for pastry. Add the well beaten egg mixed with a little milk. Mix lightly. Turn out on a floured board and pat. Roll to 1-4 inch thickness. Brush over with a little melted butter. Spread generously with the berries mixed with the remaining sugar and cinnamon. Dot with butter, roll up carefully as a jelly roll. Press the edges together well. Place in a well greased baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven for 1-2 hour. Serve with whipped cream as a lemon sauce.

Sour Pudding With Strawberry Sauce

2 tablespoons gelatin
4 egg whites
1 tablespoon cold water
2 tablespoons boiling water
1/4 cup confectioners sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes. Dissolve in boiling water. Beat egg whites until stiff and add to the gelatin with the sugar and lemon juice, mixing thoroughly. Pile lightly in a dish. Chill. Serve with strawberry sauce.

Strawberry Sauce

Cook 2 cups strawberries with 1-4 cups sugar until the juice becomes syrupy.
